

BERSAGLIERI #35

"Bersaglieri" -- Ed Wrobel's favorite zine.....

Tom Mainardi 1403 Lawrence Rd., Havertown, PA 19083
(215) 446-5611

Subs to Bersaglieri are $6 for 10 issues.

I Volotari: standby players: Arnawoodian, Byrne, Mills, Bohner, Hart, Williams, Craig, Fleming, Frueh, Russell, Givan, Haley, and Swartz.

If you play out a standby position -- you get three free issues.

If you are interested in being in a game in Bersaglieri -- I will be auctioning off a gamestart in the upcoming PDO Relief Auction. There will be 7 spots, of course, and the minimum bid will be $3. For more info, please contact Mike Mills, PDO Grand Kommissar, at 26 Laurel Rd. Sloatsburg, NY 10974.

Deadlines for the games run in Bersaglieri will be Sunday, June 3rd. The reason for this unusual deadline time is due to a few things. Note: Between May 12th and May 23rd I will not be home. I'm taking a little vacation to the South. A couple of friends and I are going to New Orleans for the World's Fair and then over to Orlando to DisneyWorld and Epcot. It should be an enjoyable trip since I've never been to either place. I just hope the Fair is ready in time..... I've made the deadline for the weekend of MaryCon -- which I will be attending. So if any of you are there, you can hand me your orders. This will also mean that from May 31st to June 3rd, I will not be home to receive telephoned orders....And please don't try and leave order messages with someone else, because they won't take them....

I've just turned 25 this week. I guess that's supposed to be some sort of achievement. The only good thing that I can think of in turning 25 is that my car insurance rates will go down. Anybody have any ideas on getting older.....

NEWS RELEASE FROM POLITBURO

Well here we go again! Marycon 84 has been scheduled for the first weekend in June, and we hope to see you at the boards again this year. Due to the success of Marycon 83, and a little more available time to organize this year, we have decided to expand Marycon 84. We will be sending out invitations through a special issue of Politess which will be sent throughout the country and to our neighbors to the north. Also, in addition to the regular festivities, we have planned a day for dip variation play for all you closet "Revisionists," to be held the Friday before Marycon.

This year Marycon will cost $40.00 and Vari-Marycon (Variations) will cost you $30.00. We realize that this is a bit of an increase over last year, but it is not intended to make an "obscene" profit for us as it may seem to indicate. Though last years Marycon was a success in the number of people participating, and the good time had by all; it was a financial disaster. The only thing that stood between us and debtors prison was "fast talkin" Dick Warner, who was able to convince the "powers that be" at the College to writeoff our debt, (only after wearing out the knees of two pairs of pants and a severe case of athlete's foot of the mouth). To avoid a repetition of last years fiasco and to cover additional costs (no blankets are still not included) we had to up the price. But even with this increase, Marycon is still a bargain for what you get for the money, which brings us to the point of this letter.

To increase our operating capital, and the faith of the College administration in our ability to pay our debts, we would like you to dig deep and come up with your registration money now. In an effort to ease our conscience for hitting you up for the bucks, and as an added incentive, we are offering a $2.50 discount on Marycon and Vary-Marycon; $7.00 if you register for both. This represents a possible 10% savings or a 1/2 case of Strohs depending on your view on life. This offer will be in effect until April 20th, (Hitler's Birthday). Your registration should be sent to: Marycon 84, P.O. Box 1254, College Station, Fredericksburg, VA 22401.

You were willing to take a chance on us last year. We hope you felt that the chance was worth taking. Your help will insure the success of Marycon 84. And we again hope you will feel it was a chance worth taking. See you in June!

GM-Germany: I don't care about messes as long as the game's a good one.
And this one is. I can't wait to see what happens in about 2 or 3 more turns.....

Rom-Lon: You've been found guilty of plotting to overthrow Pope Pat.
Therefore, Portugal will be forfeited. After that, We'll see.

England-World: The English parliament has just come from a lengthy session and has announced that they have discovered the way to peace among us--- their solution: Everyone throws down their arms, goes home, and swears fealty to the Queen of England. You gotta admit that would solve a lot of problems. Everyone in favor say "aye".

Kiel-Vie: As Yogi Berra said, "It ain't over 'til the fat lady sings."

Germany-GM: I know he really didn't say that, but I just want Dale to know that he is very shortly going to wish that Molus was playing this position.

GM-Germany: No comment.

from Her Most Royal Highness Queen Katherine I of Flushing

Dear Tom,

It was bad enough when you took away the B with the hair, but this issue there was no Celebrity Page! Why are you purposely ruining your zine this way?

At WoodyCon in front of at least 20 witnesses you said we would see the return of the "hairy B". You even promised to have contests to support the hairy B.

As for the Celebrity Page, I'd suggest you return it to us immediately. If you do not start pleasing your subbers, we will be forced to pay Mr. Hart to write tons of press for us!

Take Care,
Mama Kath...

(Your Majesty,

Your wishes are my commands.....As you can see the Celebrity Page has returned this issue double its normal size! As for the B with the hair and its contest, the "B" itself has returned and the contest will appear in the next issue.

I tremble and quake at your rath. I will do anything in my power to appease it. Awaiting your next wish.....

Your obedient servant,
T.M. (Bobby Sacks toady))

from Ed Wrobel, Director, Bureau of Retirements, RETS

Tom --

How about more commentary from you and your readers on the pending retirements of Sacks and Linsey? I can't make a proper decision without weighing all factors and considering feedback from the public.

What's with Mills? Incognito? I'm about ready to declare WARTHOG an independent organization and establish a separate custodianship of players' rights.

Ed Wrobel, BoR

see my response on page 14.

Dear Tom,

From Tom Swider

Hi-ho! What's up doc? Well, as it goes, I've got two papers due April 13th and am quite busy. But, I thought I'd tell you a few things since I have a few moments.

First and most importantly, please print this in the next Bersag.

"Trentino Italian Endgame Statement Errata: I wish to make a correction. The person who passed one of my letters in this game was Mark Coldiron. Two things brought this to my attention. First, a letter from Dale (rightfully so...but this was the only way I could find out who the snitch was...sorry) and Don William's comment about his "secret alliance" with Germany. Coupled with the statement Don said on the phone to me about "how I can't tell you who passed your letter; It'd ruin his confidentiality". I've known of Dave White well enough that he isn't the letter-passing type. Needless to say, I really don't think letterpassing really improves your credibility Mark. Consider Don's position. Don gets one of my letters. If Don were smart, he might begin to wonder how many letters of his were passed by Mark to the other players? It's a net-zero game. Again, apologies to Dale, but I felt it was either you or Mark, and you ~~xxxx~~ were the only one ~~af~~ who'd write to me about that error."

Secondly, B has really improved in the past few issued. It used to be sort of on the warehouse side, but it's nice to see you adding more things, and I liked Pat's play. Actually, it's his first play I really enjoyed. I guess his style has improved for the better.

Thirdly, in the next issued of Expletive Deleted, I have published my first RETS treasurer's report. I ask you to read it, as I think there's one or two good ideas in there. Also, ~~■~~ I was thinking that it could be possible to "legitimize" the PDO as a bona fide non-profit business! Don't laugh! Any donations that are sent in for the PDORA or NMR Donation or DipTax, et al, can be in form of a check made payable to the PDO, a bank account either in Havertown, Endwell or Sloatsburg. One person would do all transactions in form of checks, and the cancelled checks or checking computer printouts of monthly transactions would be forwarded to somebody else, so as to maintain a security measure. Then, the funds would be able to be distributed evenly to custodians. This "security" measure would give Sacks no grounds to declare PDO as a hoax organization. Also, I suggested running alternate Dip events at the major conventions such as Atlanticon. If PDO can start off doing a gunboat tourney at Atlanticon this August, we can begin to have the hobbyist's voice's heard instead of Sack's. Eventually, we might be able to bid for the rights to run the Diplomacy tourney itself.

If you are at all interested, let me know, and drop a line of this to Mike Mills. I have some forms on running tourneys and sales booths for Atlanticon, and if we're going to seriously consider running a PDO event, we better act very soon.

As for politics: I am also a republican. I mentioned "Reagan's Youth" sort of as a joke to Highfield before I knew how hyper he really is. He took it seriously I guess. On campus here at SUNY Binghamton, the conservative block of students are becoming more active. Understand that SUNY B is the "Sixth Borrough" of New York City. Some of the groups we have are very liberal/extremest/radical. Amongst them are 2 Jewish organizations which are constantly at each other's throats (my understanding behind the conflicts between themselves and/or Islamic students is weak, so I won't go into it at all), a Gay/Lesbian organization, "NYPIRG" (it stands for NY Public Interest Research Group) which claims it's not political at all, though is under law suit for blatantly using their funds to send buses ~~xxx~~ to DC for nuclear protest rallies (which is total misuse of MY tuition funds; I don't wish any part of my activity fee to be used for SIGs which I don't support. I could tell you muhh of the open Reagan-hating comments I hear and see, but Michel Liesnard would get too many ideas in his head. Too many people see Reagan as a warmonger. Yeah, I'm sure Ronnie wants a nuclear war! As for all this "excessive defensive spending" which Hart rants and raves about, it's not true. The amount of money which Reagan spend per capita on defense is about the same that JFK spent.

In WWI and WWII, our country was able to mobilize for war quickly since we couldn't be attacked without advanced warning. We had the luxury of being able to have a lazy army. Now with communications and transportation advances, war can touch our soil with the touch of a button. The situation in the nuclear age is much more complex and we really can't afford to be complacent. Most defense monies go into salaries of people either seldiering or ~~xxxxx~~ soddering circuit boards to aid in new weapons technologies. Since Endwell/Binghamton/Owego (the "Southern Tier of NY") is very technology orientated, a cut in defense spending would certainly have their effects upon our community's businesses, namely IBM, Singer Link Aviation, General Electric, and their subcontractors. So I think Reagan did right in keeping military spending at the level it's at.

He handled Grenada correctly, though he could have delivered a coup de grace by calling in the UN to install a popular election using a one-man one vote system. Showing Central America the beauty behind our political system (as opposed to dictatorships or totalitarianism) would, in my opinion, make things more favorable to both our country and theirs (if they want a dictatorship, I say "Sure, why not?" as long as it's something the people are ~~willing to tolerate~~ in consensus with.).

The only thing I don't like about Reagan is the way he handled the "gender gap". Appointing a female supreme court justice is no replacement for proper legislation of female rights.

Gotta go.

Ciao-chow-chow!

Tom

("The other Tom")

(To Ed and Tom,

As for the proposed retirements of Robert Sacks and Bruce Linsey; the retirement for these particular two will have to be considered very carefully being that they wield such great authority in the Dip hobby. My own special investigative team will be making a sweeping inquiry and examination of Mr. Sacks and Mr. Linsey. I have set their report deadline for the week of MaryCon so that I will be able to personally authorize you and your Bureau to take whatever action is deemed necessary to expedite their retirement approval, delay, denial or disallowance under the appropriate Section outlined in the Bureau of Retirements Act. Public discussion of the matter of Mr. Sacks and Mr. Linsey's retirement will assist us in our task. Therefore, if any reader has any suggestions or ideas which you believe might help the RETS and the BoR in determining Mr. Sacks and Mr. Linsey's status in the hobby, please feel free to write to me.....

As for the proposition of making the PDO a "non-profit" organization, this matter must be taken up with the Grand Kommissar himself. I assure you that this will be done at the very next time that I do communicate with him. As for running a tournament or salesbooth at AtlantiCon -- I am in full agreement with you and will wholeheartedly support you in any venture. If such a venture were to compete with a Sacks-sponsored event, that would even be better.... I'll be in touch with you concerning this matter.....

Tom, what do you mean that Reagan has handled the "gender Gap" wrong? Both of my "bosses" are women appointees of his: Margaret Heckler -- Sec. of DHHS and the Acting Director of SSA is also a woman, though I can't think of her name. How about UN Ambassador Kirkpatrick...And let's not forget Nancy Reagan; I mean Ron did marry a woman!)

more letters.....

from Carl "CP" Russell

Hart, Reagan and Mondale. I can't stand Mondale. Hart is more tolerable to me. Some of the policies he's proposed are sound such as his economic plan. I don't agree with everything Hart is for -- like the nuclear freeze plan -- but I don't vote a candidate on the basis of one issue.

I'm a loyal Reagan supporter but I am firmly against prayer in public schools -- something Reagan is for. A candidate can't please everybody all the time, but someone who stands up for what he believes in (instead of being two-faced or wishy-washy) impresses me. Reagan has those qualities. He should be re-elected.

(Carl,

I more or less agree with you. I don't think that Reagan is a great president, but I think that he's the best we have right now. I agree with alot of what he stands for. He's a tad hard on defense but I think we kind of needed that after Ford and Carter. I don't know too much about economics, but things don't seem to be too bad right now.

As for the "home" issues like abortion and prayer in the schools, I stand right behind him. Abortion is murder and as for prayer in the schools -- this is a Christian country. I think that if a child wants to say a prayer before school starts or wants to talk about God or the Bible in a class, then that's fine. Fact in point: our national motto: In God we trust.....

See you at MaryCon,
Tom.

It has returned....

PAT HART'S PLAY CONTINUED FROM LAST ISSUE.....

Kathy: Why are you here?

Pat: I thought you might listen to reason if I talked to you in person and come over to my side before it's too late.

Kathy: You have some nerve fella! Don't you know who you are talking too? I was voted best player and writer. I'm number one! I own Dipland! Why anytime I want I can get the entire board to attack you, no problem.

Pat: But Kathy....

Kathy: You're only in the game now so everyone will have someone to pick on in the press.

Pat: Then I'll just go and talk to John.

Kathy: Nooooooooo!.....Damn it!.....rumble-rumble.....

Pat: Let's see, it's coming from this door.....CRRRRRRAAAAASSSSSHHH!.....John, where are you?.....John?.....clack-creeeaak.....John!.....Oh my God...What has she done to you?

John: Mmmmmppppfffgghhh!

Pat: Don't worry, I'll have you out of that straightjacket before you know it.

John: Nooooo! Save yourself.

Pat: I can take care of myself.

John: You don't understand.

Pat: Tell me about it.

John: Who are you?

Pat: My name is Pat Hart.

John: You're from South Carolina.

Pat: Hope you don't mind a rebel rescuing you?

John: I love Southerners.

Pat: Huh? That's not what I read in Whitestonia.

John: That's not me. Kathy writes it all. I'm not even Italian.

Pat: I see.

John: You gotta let Dipland know the truth.

Pat: It's got a padlock. I'll have to go for help.

John: You haven't much time.

Kathy: Time's up!

Pat: A whip isn't going to stop me.

Kathy: ...crraackk!...We'll see about that.....whoooooooooosh-whoooooooooosh-whoooooooooosh-whooooosh-whooooo sh-whooooosh...

John: Look out!

Pat: My legs are caught!

John: It's a bola whip. That's how she got me.

Kathy: ...crraackk!...Do what I say. Hands behind your back.

Pat: I, I guess I have no choice.

Kathy: I always knew playing superhero with Brad would pay off.

Pat: What are you going to do now?

John: She's gonna hypnotize you so that...

Kathy: Shut up John.

John: Mmmmpppffghhhh!

Pat: So that's how you do it.

Kathy: It doesn't matter now. Yeah, when I'm through with you, in about a week, you'll go home as if nothing has happened. When I really need you to be a toady, I'll call you on the phone and give you the sceret password. Once again, my dominance will be reinforced and everyone will vote me number one again and again and again.

Pat: One day your secret will out...

Kathy: Shut up.
 Pat: Mmmppffghh!
 Kathy: Okay kids, take him to Phyllis's room.
 Francine & Frank: Hee-hee-hee-hee-hee.
 Kathy: I'll be back later to take care of you John.
 John:
 Voice: Mom, I'm home.
 Kathy: Hi honey, how did you do?
 Phyllis: About a dozen.
 Kathy: You know I want to finish wallpapering before the next Byrnecon.
 Phyllis: But mom, I've been out all day.
 Kathy: Go get a dozen more tonight.
 Phyllis: Give me a break.
 Kathy: ...CRACK!!!!...
 Phyllis: I'm going!
 Kathy: When you get back, go to bed on the sofa.
 Phyllis: Aw mom, I never get to sleep in my own bed.
 Kathy:
 Phyllis: Who is it this time?
 Kathy: None of your business.
 Phyllis: When are you going to stop?
 Kathy: You already know when.
 Phyllis: I know, I know. After you get Gary Coughlan.
 Kathy: Don't worry, it won't be much longer.

(Thank you for that "different" play, Pat.... That's three free issues tacked onto your sub.....)
